Such an appointment perhaps hardly comes . An attempt is being made to arrange a shootwithin the range of probability, but rumour has made mention of it. The Echo de Chine in its issue of the 29th August, after referring to the reported illness of the Empress Downgor, the rivalry between Prince CHING and June Lu, the retirement of Liu, Viceroy of Nanking, the replacement of Liu by Yv Lu, Viceroy of Chihli, and the reported replacement of the latter by Li Hungchane, goes on to say: - As if "all these complications were not sufficient "for the hour, it is said that LI HUNG-"CHANG will not listen to any offer patronised and a most enjoyable evening "of a Vicerovalty except one, namely, "Canton-no other, neither Tientsin "nor Nanking." As more than a week has clapsed and no further mention has been made of Li's name in connection with the succession to Tan it may perhaps be beaumed that there is nothing in the report. If the old statesman is to return to office. bowever, it is quite possible that the Viceroyalty of Canton might have attractions for him, for it is a very lucrative appointment, as his brother Li Han-chang proved during his occupancy of it, while on the anything more about it until I found myself other hand Tientsin may have become distasteful to him under the different conditions at the Kowloon Hotel the previous night sitthat have come about since he occupied the Viceroy's Yamen before. Lt as the Mr. W. H. A strong man is wanted at Canton Now La, whatever his other failings, is not without force of character, and it he set himself the task of restoring order in Kwangtung he would be as likely to succeed as any other of Chim's foremost men, unless, possibly, CHANG CHIH-TUNG.

The situationin Kwangtung is becoming critical, has been so, indeed, for some timepast, and the cooner China appoints a Viceroy capable ofdealing with it, whether L. Hund-CHANG or some one clse, the better it will be for her own interests. The province in fact stands in urgent need of pacification, and if China is unequal to the task it will have to be accomplished for her by Great Britain, and this for two reasons, first. that we cannot allow trade to be strangled by gress incompetency and corruption in the administration, peaceful trading boats to be pirated in open day on the passage from Canton to Hongkoug, and British lives to be placed in jeopardy; denies the Susprainty of Great Britain. It and, secondly, because if order be not accepts the Conference at Cape Town. speedily restored France is very likely to step in with a claim that the duty of pacification devolves upon her as the protector of the
